Editor’s Note

Students’ ‘sense of belonging’ during their university education is an essential component in enhancing sense of persistence, and success. Here at NUST, co-curricular activities cover a broad range of sponsored on-campus programs and services that are designed to promote leadership, interpersonal skills and professional competence in Nustians while increasing campus involvement.

Campus involvement is necessary for every student’s personal growth. Whether it is being part of clubs and societies or getting involved in sports or other activities, the benefit is explicitly seen during their education as well as in life ahead. With more than 15 clubs and societies on campus, finding a niche in one and even more of them is easy for the students.

NUST channels its students’ potential toward decisive outcomes and engages them into constructive activities at all levels. To attain this end, the University considers extra-curricular activities as an important engagement indicator to encourage contact between students and faculty, develop reciprocity and cooperation among students themselves and stimulate active learning.

An effort in this regard has been made in the form of the University’s compilation of its annual co-curricular activities embellished with pictorial essence covering co-curricular activities of NUST schools and colleges. Hope this will serve as an impetus for Nustians to engage themselves with the Clubs and Societies and they carry the torch of high performance even farther than before! Enjoy!
