

National University of Sciences and Technology

School of Art, Design and Architecture

ARCH-210 – Man & Environment

Credit Hours:	3	Semester:	Fall
Instructor:		Extension:
Email:
Website:
Counseling Hours:
Research Assistant:		Office:
Email:
Website:		Extension:
Pre-requisites:	None.
Course Description:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The man &amp; environment course is a study of man's journey to conquer and master the natural environment</li> <li>• we will start our journey by looking into the life of pre-historic man</li> <li>• along the way, we will view how man reacted to the natural environment, and his attempts to create an environment to meet his intellectual development and his ever changing needs</li> <li>• Eventually, we will come to modern day man, and the modern day environments that he has created.</li> <li>• we will critically examine the success or failure of man's built environments and his handling of the world's environment.</li> </ul>		