

(ECON-652) Project Analysis and Investment Decision Making

Course Description

This course will provide various investment criteria for selection of a project; methods of financing; evaluation of project; techniques of cost benefit analysis of investment projects; uses of shadow prices; problems of estimating benefits in highway, irrigation, power and other projects; impact evaluation of project; estimation of cost of congestions, externality analysis, externalities and economic analysis; social return.

Recommended Books

Neil E. Seitz and Mitch Ellison, Capital Budgeting and Long Term Financing Decisions 4th Edition.

Zvi Bodie, Alex Kane and Alan J. Marcus, Investments, 8th edition, McGraw-Hill, International Edition